

Announcement of Certification Logo for Authorized Fusion Splicer Service Partners and Distributors

Sumitomo Electric is pleased to introduce a new Authorized Service Partner logo for our fusion splicers.

This mark is granted only to service partners who demonstrate outstanding technical capability, reliability, and commitment to quality in handling Sumitomo Electric fusion splicers and related Lightwave network products.

Application

Three types of certification logo are used for different purposes.

"Authorized Elite Service Partner"

Exclusively for "Elite" service partners authorized by Sumitomo Electric.

"Authorized Service Partner"

For service partners authorized by Sumitomo Electric

"Authorized Distributor"

For sales distributors authorized by Sumitomo Electric.

By displaying this logo, authorized partners show that they meet Sumitomo Electric's standards for maintenance, repair, and support. For customers, it is a sign of trust, indicating that their equipment is handled by appropriately trained technicians and that they can expect timely, high-quality service.

We sincerely appreciate the dedication of our authorized service partners and the continued trust of our customers. Sumitomo Electric remains committed to working with our partners to support safe and reliable optical network construction and maintenance worldwide.
